2003 ROCKY MOUNTAIN RAGTIME FESTIVAL, JULY 17-21 LOOK WHAT'S COMING YOUR WAY!

Reaffirming our commitment to quality and diverse programming, the 2003 Rocky Mountain Ragtime Festival will again be held at Boulder's Unity Church, one of the finest concert venues anywhere, with performances in the great hall upstairs and symposia and workshops in the lecture hall downstairs. You'll find everything you need, including the Ragtime Store, under one roof!

The Bösendorfer and Schimmel concert pianos will again be featured by agreement with Chris Finger Pianos of Niwot, Colorado, who have furnished the Festival with fine pianos for the past ten years. In securing top performers to play these magnificent instruments, the Festival offers programming to please the wide-ranging tastes of today's audiences.

The Festival will present concerts and symposia in six areas of music: Classic Ragtime, Folk Ragtime, Blues, Creole Music, New Ragtime and Terra Verde music. In the spirit of Innovation within Tradition, the Festival has carefully chosen performers who excel in both the old and the new music.

For Classic Ragtime, Brian Keenan and Scott Kirby, the Festival's Musical Director, will play the works of Joplin, Scott and Lamb, as will many of our other artists, with special tributes to these great masters at the evening performances. Expect some dynamic duo piano artistry, too! Sophie Rivard, the violinist from Quebec who stole our hearts last year, will return to share the stage with many of our performers.

For Folk Ragtime, David Thomas Roberts, Brian Keenan, Trebor Tichenor, Bob Ault and Jack Rummel will present authentic renditions by the noted Folk Ragtime pioneers along with many Folk-inspired rags of their own. Look for Dennis Pash, Craig Ventresco and newcomer Tom Marion to add some spirited string band music!

New to the Festival is Carl Sonny Leyland, an exciting Blues pianist who plays great boogie-woogie as well. There will be plenty of both at our special Cabaret when he's joined by Scott Kirby and David Thomas Roberts as they really rock the room!

Also new to the Festival is Tom McDermott, who will showcase Creole Music. The works of Ernesto Nazareth, Louis Moreau Gottschalk, composers of the Caribbean and South America and many original compositions will also be featured by Luiz Simas and Frank French, as well as Brian Keenan, Scott Kirby, David Thomas Roberts and the Mont Alto Ragtime and Tango Orchestra.

There will be no shortage of New Ragtime, as virtually all of our performers program it and most compose it, too. Terra Verde, reflecting the progressive transformation of New World music, will be played by Frank French, Brian Keenan, Scott Kirby and Tom McDermott, while David Thomas Roberts will present his "New Orleans Streets" Suite in its entirety. This revolutionary art form is being embraced by an ever-growing eclectic and reflective music-listening public who recognize this Festival as the premier setting for this music.
